Understanding the Puerto Rican Experience

CENTRO: Journal of the Center for Puerto Rican Studies

Now on its sixteenth year of uninterrupted publication, CENTRO Journal is the premier journal of Puerto Rican Studies in the United States. CENTRO Journal is the place to go for contemporary analyses of the Puerto Rican experiences, and for comparative work on Puerto Ricans and Latinos.

Editorial Scope: CENTRO: Journal of the Center for Puerto Rican Studies is a multi- and interdisciplinary, bilingual, refereed publication of the Center for Puerto Rican Studies. The journal welcomes scholarly articles in the humanities, and the social and natural sciences, as well as interpretive essays, interviews, fiction, book review essays, and artwork that address the Puerto Rican experience on the island and throughout the Diaspora. We are especially receptive to works that compare Puerto Ricans with other groups. CENTRO Journal is open to different research methodologies and narrative models/ styles in order to encourage submissions from any discipline, area, and field. While primarily an academic journal, we encourage submissions in a style accessible to a broad audience. CENTRO Journal is indexed and abstracted by over 20 services.

Information on CENTRO Journal's submission guidelines can be found at www.centrop.org.

CENTRO Journal is published twice a year (Spring & Fall).
 Subscriptions to the journal are for the calendar year.
