INTERNSHIP IN PLASTIC AND RECONSTRUCTIVE SURGERY NYC

LENOX HILL AMBULATORY SURGERY, PC
- AND - DARRICK E. ANTELL, MD FAC PC

Under the mentorship and guidance of Board-Certified plastic and reconstructive surgeon Darrick E. Antell, this internship is available to recent college graduates and post-bac students who have demonstrated an interest in the medical field.

The program is intended to provide an introduction into the healthcare industry. Interns will be fully integrated into the office environment. By functioning as patient-advocates to insurance carriers, administrative assistants to management, information resource specialists to patients and their families, our interns will develop an understanding of the nuances of private practice in today's changing healthcare system. They will observe patient-approved surgeries in our fully accredited OR, Lenox Hill Ambulatory Surgery PC, interface with pharmaceutical representatives, and coordinate the day-to-day operations of this busy, Upper East Side plastic surgery business. Additional information on Dr. Antell and his surgical practice is available at: www.antell-md.com

Selected interns will exhibit maturity and an eagerness to learn. They will be sensitive and respectful, following all HIPAA protocols. Internship is a salaried position with health benefits and three weeks paid vacation. A 1 year commitment is required.

To apply for the internship, please submit a current resume along with a personal statement describing your interest in medicine and relevant experiences to strengthen your candidacy.

Applicants may submit materials by email, fax, or post to:
