

OPEN HOUSE

Thursday May 21st, 2009

Time: 9:45am-12:30pm

SUNY Optometry is holding an open house for all who are interested in learning more about the Doctor of Optometry Program.

You'll get answers to your questions about: requirements, procedures, and the cost of attending.

PLEASE RSVP TO

ADMISSIONS@SUNYOPT.EDU by
Wednesday, May 20th with your # of guests.

LIMIT OF TWO GUESTS PER PERSON

State University of New York College of Optometry
33 West 42nd Street New York, New York 10036

Phone: 800-291-3937 Email: admissions@sunyopt.edu

Sponsored by the Office of Student Affairs

TRANSPORTATION DIRECTIONS

BY TRAIN OR BUS

If You arrive in New York City by train at Pennsylvania Station or by bus at the Port Authority Bus Terminal, a taxi to SUNY Optometry from any of these terminals would be approximately $5.00 plus tip.

The college is easily accessible by public transportation. It is located two blocks west of the 42nd Street Grand Central Station on the Lexington Avenue IRT #4 or #6 train, one block east of the 7th Avenue IRT #2, #3, #1, #9 and the BMT, N and R trains. It is directly across from the #7 Flushing Train and the 6th Avenue F train.

The Port Authority Bus Terminal is a three block walk and the Pennsylvania Station is a 5 minute ride to the College.

BY CAR

From the Northwest (upstate New York), the New York State thruway (I-87 & I-287) lead to Manhattan's east and west sides.

From the Northeast (MA, CT, etc.), the New England Thruway (I-95) also leads to the east and west sides.

From the West (NJ, PA), the Interstate 80 Expressway (I-80) leads to Manhattan via the George Washington Bridge.

From the South (NJ, MD, etc.), the New Jersey Turnpike (I-95) leads into the Holland Tunnel to lower Manhattan or the Lincoln Tunnel to midtown Manhattan.

PARKING

Parking garages are available and are as close as one-half block away on 43rd or 44th Streets between 5th and 6th Avenues. Parking for the morning is approximately $25.