

CAREER OR PASSION?

Now there's a four-year medical school program for those ready to change the practice of medicine.

USF College of Medicine and Lehigh Valley Health Network (LVHN) have partnered to create the new SELECT (Scholarly Excellence. Leadership Experiences. Collaborative Training.) program to train a cohort of medical students that will be on a professional trajectory to become the next generation of healthcare leaders.

We invite you to learn and explore more about SELECT at our Open House on Saturday, October 1, 2011 @ 8:30 am at Lehigh Valley Health Network- Muhlenberg Hospital in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Directions: <http://www.lvhn.org/lvh/Locations/Muhlenberg%7C256>

To RSVP, please contact Sherri White at Sherri_S.White@lvhn.org or 610-402-2554

If you are unable to join us on October 1, or have questions about the program, please email William Houser, USF MD Admissions Counselor and Recruiter, at whouser@health.usf.edu, or visit the SELECT website at www.select.health.usf.edu.
