

Seeking Healthy Non-Smokers

Research Study

The Department of Genetic Medicine at Weill Cornell Medical College is looking for healthy control volunteers (ages 18+) for research studies looking at the effects smoking may have on the lung cells.

If you qualify for this study you will receive:

- A free lung health and medical evaluation (includes physical exam, electrocardiogram (EKG), blood and urine tests, breathing test, questionnaires and a chest X-ray).
- $250 compensation if you qualify and complete all tests and visits

Visits and compensation include:

Screening visit: $50

Initial study visit including bronchoscopy: $200

For more information please call 646-962-2672