

ST. JOHN'S
UNIVERSITY

It's Time To Make An IMPACT
IMPROVING HIV AWARENESS & TESTING
AMONG YOUNG INCARCERATED MALES

FREE EVENT

Co-Sponsored by St. John's University Department of Psychology, Office of Postgraduate Professional Development and BET Rap It Up Campaign

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26TH 9:30 - 1:30 PM

ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY MANHATTAN CAMPUS AUDITORIUM

DOCUMENTARY SCREENING • MUSIC • PANEL DISCUSSION • LUNCH

Panelists include:

- Dr. Robert Fullilove - Columbia Mailman School of Public Health
- Sean Dino Johnson - Council for Unity, BEATS Community Advisory Board Member
- Alison Jordan - Executive Director of Transitional Health Care Coordination at Rikers Island, NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene
- Vivian Siu - Documentary Film Producer
- Escott Solomon - HIV Counselor/Advocate

This free half-day event is designed to increase the awareness of students, health/service providers and youth leaders of the health challenges of young Black males re-entering communities after release from incarceration.

Opportunities for continuing education (CE) credits are available.

TO REGISTER VISIT <http://bit.ly/12IJOp8>
FOR QUESTIONS OR MORE INFO CALL (917) 719-1419