BronxWorks

Community Food Program Intern

BronxWorks helps individuals and families improve their economic and social well being. From toddlers to seniors, we feed, shelter, teach, and support out neighbors to build a stronger community.

We are seeking a part-time summer intern who will be available 15-20 hours a week, from late-June through August with the possible opportunity to extend. This internship position is a great opportunity to gain on-the-ground experience through BronxWorks' community and youth-focused food access initiatives. A small stipend will be provided during the summer.

Responsibilities:

- Assist Program Coordinator in implementing a youth food justice service learning curriculum including facilitating workshops on food systems, food access, urban agriculture, and healthy food retail.
- Assist with the operation of a community-run farmers market
- Perform outreach and education around farmers markets

Preferred qualifications:

- Knowledge and interest in food systems, urban agriculture, farmers markets, food policy, community engagement and organizing, youth empowerment, nutrition, food justice and/or environmental justice
- Undergraduate or graduate coursework in nutrition, public health, community health, food systems, or related field
- Outgoing, passionate, motivated, and organized
- Experience working with youth

Interested applicants, please send a resume and cover letter to Kim Wong at kwong@bronxworks.org with "Community Food Program Intern" in the subject line.
