

Volunteer Opportunity

Asian American Community Health Needs and Resource Assessments

The mission of the New York University Center for the Study of Asian American Health (CSAAH) is to reduce health disparities in the Asian American community through research, training and partnership. We are looking for bright, motivated individuals to help us conduct community assessments to better understand the health needs of and resources available to Asian American sub-groups in New York City.

Volunteer Responsibilities:

- Participate in a training
- Keep a timesheet and report to site supervisor
- Perform data collection and entry
- Attend outreach and screening events (may include some weekends and evening hours)
- Recruit participants
- Administer community-based surveys and focus groups
- Assist in the translation of documents

Volunteer Qualifications:

- Availability on weekends and evenings
- Familiarity with minority and immigrant communities in NYC
- Bilingual in at least one of the following languages: Mandarin, Cantonese, Korean, Vietnamese, Khmer, Nepali, Bengali

To apply for this volunteer opportunity, please submit the following items:

1. Completed application (available at <http://asian-health.med.nyu.edu/education-training/csaah-student-internships>)
2. Resume
3. Cover letter

Items can be sent by email to:

Smiti Kapadia Nadkarni
Email: smiti.kapadia@nyumc.org