

Interested in making a difference with families in the South Bronx?

The Center for Child Health and Resiliency (CCHR), part of Community Pediatric Programs at Montefiore Medical Group, serves children and adolescents from infancy through 21 years.

CCHR has a new initiative to identify parents/caregivers who might be in need of additional support, and to connect these individuals to basic resources, mental health care and social service needs within and beyond the clinic.

SEEKING:

Motivated, reliable, detail-oriented undergraduate or graduate student with interest and experience in public health, social work, or patient care services. Preferably bilingual (Spanish/English). Must be comfortable communicating with patients, providers, nursing staff, front desk staff, and administrators.

To apply, please send a resume and cover letter to Mia Stange at mstange@montefiore.org.
