Volunteer with the Weill Cornell Heart-to-Heart Outreach Campaign

Weill Cornell's Clinical and Translational Science Center is looking for dedicated Hunter student volunteers for our Heart-to-Heart Outreach Campaign. This program offers free diabetes and cardiovascular disease interventions to NYC's underserved communities. Volunteers will have the opportunity to directly interact with participants, sit-in on physician consultations, and network with medical and nursing students. For more information about Heart-to-Heart, please visit: www.myheart2heart.org.

Volunteer Requirements:

- At least 18-years-old
- Currently enrolled at Hunter College

***Proficiency in Spanish and prior volunteer experience is a plus***

Program Commitment:

- Attend one 2-hour training session
- Commit to volunteering at a minimum of six health screenings (Health screenings are on Saturdays and Sundays and there are typically 1 or 2 screenings per month)

To apply, please fill out the Weill Cornell Clinical and Translational Science Center Volunteer Application Form at www.myheart2heart.org/volunteer

If you have any questions please call (646) 962-8325 or email amc2063@med.cornell.edu

ryou have any questions email amc2063@med.cornell.edu www.myheart2heart.org/volunteer fyou have any questions email amc2063@med.cornell.edu fo volunteer apply at www.myheart2heart.org/volunteer fyou have any questions email amc2063@med.cornell.edu fo volunteer apply at mc2063@med.cornell.edu fo volunteer apply at mc2063@med.cornell.edu	o volunteer apply at ww.myheart2heart.org/	Fo volunteer apply at www.myheart2heart.org/volunteer f you have any questions email amc2063@med.cornell.edu
---	---	---	--