

MEDITATION RETREAT FOR HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS

As healthcare practitioners, we face many challenging moments. Whether it is a difficult to manage patient or a difficult to manage emotion which results as a consequence of a patient we haven't been able to help; whether we are deciding between quality of life or longevity of life; whether it is a lack of time for patient contact or it is compassion fatigue ... We all need a dose of fresh injectable positive energy to pull ourselves out of these moments everyday.

This is a special invitation for a weekend meditation retreat designed specifically for healthcare professionals to help them address the challenges faced both in their personal lives and in their work.

This retreat will provide the opportunity for you to acquaint yourself with a quick and easy meditation practice referred to as Raja Yoga meditation. This will be the focus of this retreat. The practice of Raja Yoga helps you free your minds momentarily so as to energize it with a Higher Source of pure energy - a connection that will provide you with a deep sense of stability and equanimity no matter what the situation.

The main content of the retreat will be presented by experienced teachers from the Brahma Kumaris. In addition, there will be a chance to learn the applications of this spiritual practice from those integrating it actively in their clinical work.

Saturday, October 8 - Monday, October 10, 2016
(arrival 2 pm - 4 pm) (departure by 10 - 11 am)

Contributions: All Hope in Healthcare retreats at Peace Village are made possible by the generosity and contribution of the participants. Please check with the Peace Village staff for details.
