- Be part of the world's largest and most prestigious science festival.
- Meet and network with science enthusiasts from all over the globe.
- Receive exciting appreciation awards for outstanding service to the Festival.
- Help educate fellow community members on exciting innovations in the field.

The World Science Festival returns to New York City from May 30 - June 4, 2017, featuring over 60 extraordinary events and performances. Now in its tenth year, The World Science Festival gathers great minds in science and the arts to produce live and digital content that allows everyone—kids and adults, novices, and enthusiasts—to engage with scientific discoveries in a unique and thrilling way. Through discussions, debates, theatrical works, interactive explorations, intimate salons, and major outdoor experiences, the Festival takes science out of the laboratory and into the streets, parks, museums, galleries, and premier performing arts venues all over NYC.
